

the writing remain if rained upon. Due to cost of the paper, editing/compacting the data sheets will be pursued.)
We still haven't determined the purpose of distilled water, bleach and rubbing alcohol. They don't seem to be required for the 4 tests we are planning for implementation in our citizen science project. Perhaps they are involved in the clean-up which KCD had accomplished for the users of the kits they maintained. We will follow up and continue reading the details of the KCD Water Quality Testing Manuals that are being one on their Boise Creek testing program at Emmetlav. Tom has agreed to set up the website and do maps for the locations of the testing. (A meeting of volunteer testers was later set up to label kit parts and discuss procedures and processes in hopes of starting testing in September, conditions allowing.)

New Business:

Ginger Merrill asked about an ordinance she heard existed which stated the private property trails "Marked Trails" registered and recorded for 10 years on KC maps were required to remain accessible in perpetuity. She heard that a Hooperson, Ann Taylor, was a champion of the cause. It appears that this wasn't followed when some development occurred in the Hooperson Creek valley near the Merriam area. Melissa said she would try to find out more information and communicate it to us for follow-up.

Meeting adjourned.
